Terms and conditions

Registration becomes binding once this form has been signed. Please book your flight only after the minimum number of participants has been confirmed, and pay the travel fee only after receiving the invoice, quoting the invoice number. Travel cancellation insurance is highly recommended.

If the organizer has to cancel the trip in whole or in part, the travel fee will be refunded in full or proportionately. No further claims for reimbursement exist.

Participation in this trip is at your own risk; the trip is not intended for therapeutic purposes. International health insurance for India that also covers repatriation must be taken out in advance, and proof of it provided to the organizer. Each participant is personally responsible for having their fitness to travel medically assessed and for preventing illness. For advice, we recommend the Institute of Tropical Medicine in Berlin. There are no mandatory vaccinations.
